

Don't just take our word for it...

London Road Veterinary Centre,
King's Lynn:

"I would have no hesitation in recommending Pride to any business such as ours needing assistance in this increasingly difficult financial climate."

The Cromwell Veterinary Group, Huntingdon:

"Pride Debt Recovery keep us informed on a regular basis and are always courteous when dealing with our clients. We have no hesitation in recommending them as they provide an excellent service."

---

Paws Inc Veterinary Clinics:

"With a commission only service that had no collection fee attached we decided to pass on debts that our previous agency had been unable to collect for us. I was amazed when Ali came back to us with payments that had been outstanding so long. Moving to Pride was one of the best decisions I have made as manager for our company, I don't actually worry about bad debts now!"

Oakham Veterinary Hospital:

"We have always found the service offered by Pride to be excellent, they are always totally professional at all times and we have had some good results."

but we can help you to:

- get overdue accounts paid
- improve your cash flow
- concentrate on running your business without having to worry about monies owed.

Who we are and what makes us so different

Pride credit control and debt recovery services is an independent business that was formed by Alison Hawkins and Diane Rivetti in February 2010:

“With 17 years experience in the debt recovery industry we recognised a need for a more personal approach to assisting companies with their credit control requirements.

“Our approach is one that is sensitive to current market conditions and one where - as the owners of the business - we are directly involved in providing the best possible service to each and every client.”

A proven way of collecting debts quickly and you only pay us when you've been paid yourself.

The use of a Debt Collection Agency is a proven way of collecting debts quickly. It's a fact that both consumers and companies experiencing financial difficulties will normally prioritise their creditors for payment. This suggests that those creditors who demonstrate the consequences of continued non-payment are most likely to be paid first.

Ever mindful of the future relationship between you and your customers, Pride will always be very professional in the way we approach your clients for payment whilst maintaining an outstanding level of service.

Pride Debt Recovery Ltd provides debt collection services throughout the UK. We will obtain payment of your overdue accounts using a combination of letters, emails, faxes and telephone calls aimed at bringing about the early settlement of such accounts.

We employ a flexible approach as each debt is handled on a case by case basis, which normally results in prompt payment. However, should your customer still fail to make payment, we may recommend that legal action is taken against them through court proceedings.

Consider the benefits...

- ✓ Fast payment – customers normally pay promptly once we are involved.
- ✓ Increased cash flow – we can help reduce the amount of overdue accounts you have.
- ✓ Cost effective – no collection, no commission.
- ✓ Time saving – let us collect your debts so you can spend more time running your business.
